Bar d'Eau @ Trump SoHo

Trump SoHo

In time for the sky-rocking summer temperatures that have some groups yearning for refreshing treats, Trump SoHo is debuting its new Bar d'Eau, an outdoor cocktail lounge with a 6,000-sf pool deck and a Bocce Ball court on the 7th floor.

The outdoor lounge is perfect for groups up to 150 to gather for an afternoon networking event while enjoying specialty bites like the lobster salad with slices of orange. Try the Spicy Margarita with lime juice, cilantro and red peppers, and the truffle butter popcorn, both faves among groups. We also like how their Kiwi Caipirinha, a variation of the Brazilian cocktail with Cachaca rum mixed with kiwi fruit, sounds.

"Many say that Bar d'Eau is a fantastic addition to SoHo's trendy nightlife scene," says Danielle Gorand, groups senior sales manager. "The signature drinks and light fare are the perfect way to cool down on a hot summer evening.... The indoor and outdoor space creates an open, glamorous and relaxing atmosphere that encourages people to hang out all night."

Matching the sophistication of Trump SoHo's floor-to-ceiling windows and 2-story lobby with refined designs in earthy colors, the lounge has an Italian mosaic tile-lined lounge pool with a cascading waterfall and an energizing view of New York's skyline. It's also on the same floor of the Spa at Trump SoHo.

"It is an urban retreat ideal for enjoying cocktails and the unique vibe of SoHo," adds Gorand.

The 46-story hotel has 391 guest rooms and views of the Hudson river. With a 2-story lobby featuring 22-foot ceilings and majestic columns, the hotel also has a 1,700-sf private top-floor venue called SoHi, which is naturally lighted through 15-ft floor-to-ceiling windows. A luxury ballroom yields 4,000 sf of meeting space; total meeting space throughout the property is 12,000 sf.
